

Movement for (seemingly) Nothing

That which cannot be avoided
That which makes perfect sense
A sigh that cannot be kept in
That slip of tongue
That laughter
That naivety a mature man tries to constantly avoid
That wise giggling of an elderly
That friction between two
The crack in one's voice
The breaking of a glass
Falling all of a sudden
Stumbling upon one's foot
Rearranging one's hair
And forgetting where it all began.
