

Sanity

Insanity – He's insane.

Probability – He is probably going to kill himself.

Maturity – Does it have anything to do with that?

Enthusiasm – He has never been so enthusiastic about anything else in his life.

Consequences – Still unknown.

Faith – Isn't it more appropriate to say fate?

Reasoning – He's going to kill himself because he is insane.

Justice – When will it fall into place?

Passion – He once knew a woman with whom he felt some sexual tension. (or so he thought).

Purposefulness – He has never had this feeling.

Love – Was more parallel to fuck, in his case.

Questioning – Too much of that in this passage, not enough in his life time.

How – He has never been especially original about anything. Probably won't be about his death either.

Forgetfulness – Aren't we all creatures of forgetfulness?

A lesson – Don't think there's one.

Calming down or coming down – It's time to put down the pen and relax. There's nothing to do anyway.
